TUESDAY, AUGUST 3, 1869.

[From the Detroit Free Press.]

A REMARKABLE NEGRO—THE PRINT OF A WHITE HAND OVER HIS HEART—AN OIL SKIN BAG AROUND HIS NECK.

Yesterday afternoon, near the foot of Cass street, a negro who had lately arrived on a vessel, disrobed himself and proceeded to take a swim under the dock. After disporting for a while, a strange mark on his left breast caught the eye of some idlers, and as he came out to don his garments, an investigation revealed a curious freak of dame Nature. While the rest of the body was coal black, a spot just over the heart was a perfect imitation of a small hand, and the finger and thumb, which were delineated very distinctly, were as white as the skin of any Caucasian. The palm of the hand was there, four fingers, spread apart, the thumb partially bent down—in fact, just as if a child of six or eight had laid a hand on the dark skin and burned its impress into the flesh. During the conversation which ensued, the man stated that the mark was one of distinction; that Providence had placed it there as a sign that he would be a great doctor and spirit medium; and perform wonderful charms and cures.

Around his neck was an oil skin bag, holding, perhaps, half a pint, and in this, he stated, were charms that would keep away evil spirits, and protect him from sickness and death. He refused to let his questioners see the charms, but allowed them to handle the sack, the contents of which felt like glass, nails, pebbles, &c. The negro was, he said, a great "fetish man" among his race in Buffalo. If anything ailed one of them, he could produce a cure by letting them hold the bag in their hands; if they lost any property, he slept with the bag under his pillow for three nights in succession, and on the third night he was sure to dream just who took the property, if it was stolen, and where it then was if it had been lost.

He said he could detect a man who wanted to steal, by just 'getting his eyes on him so—" and he crossed his huge optics and squinted over the crowd in a way that made an old peanut woman drop her basket from fright. Whether or not he observed any would be thieves among the spectators did not transpire, as the "fetish man" felt compelled to go aboard his vessel just then. How the singular marks came on his breast he could not tell; it was there when he could first remember. By touching the white skin of the finger imprints, one could see a red spot appear after the touch, and so almost in the delicate vein which traced through them the blood passing back and forth. Another curious feature, and one most difficult of explanation, was the statement of the man, that whenever he caught cold the fingers twitched and clenched, as if it were causing him intense pain.

THE HARPERS.

The New York correspondent of the Boston Gazette writes of the Harpers:

Their invariable rule has been this:—Those foreign authors that we reprint nobody else shall reprint; if any one does, we will kill their edition by selling ours below cost. So resolutely have they followed this plan that every publisher who has crossed their path has had cause to repent of his temerity, and others who would have been glad to throw down the gauntlet to them, have wisely let "I dare not wait upon I would." The policy pursued by the Harpers has seemed harsh, but probably under any other plan, with their long and valuable list of English authors, every unfledged publisher would have a picking in their preserves. A history of the different warfares in which they have been engaged would reveal not a few interesting facts in literary history.

Their large capital has for many years enabled them to be indifferent whether special issues were profitable or not, and they would unhesitatingly throw away large sums, if necessary, to kill off a rival's book. The most interesting and lively of all their contests was that with Winchester some twenty years ago. Winchester was ruined in the end, but for a long time he made a plucky fight. This was in the height of the cheap novel mania, when Bulwer, James, Mrs. Gray, Miss Pickering, and other popular novelists were turning off fiction by steam. Every steamer brought over a batch of English novels, and sometimes in less than thirty hours, both the Harpers and Winchester would have editions in the market—the one that was two hours ahead getting the cream of the sale. Newsboys in those times used to dash through the streets with a new novel just as they did during the war with a war "extra," and people bought the books in almost as high an excitement. The moment a copy of a new novel by Bulwer or James was received, it was hurried into the composing room, the doors locked, and not a soul allowed to leave the premises until the book was printed, and ready for the dealers. Those were spicy times in the book world.

STREET ETIQUETTE.—WALKING WITH LADIES.—Only villagers or persons with rural ideas any longer contend that ladies should always be given the inside of the pavement in passing. The rule adopted in cities is to turn to the right, whether the right leads to the wall or to the gutter, and an observance of this common sense rule would obviate much unpleasant "scrouging" by over gallant gentlemen who persistently crowd for the outside of the walk. Another common custom, and required by fashionable etiquette, and one which is nearly as inexplicable and absurd as the practice of a whole string of men filing out of a church pew, making themselves as ridiculous as an "awkward squad" practicing at "catching step," in order to give a woman the wrong end of the pew, is that of a man; when on a promenade or a walk with a lady, to keep himself on the outside of the pavement. A little exercise of judgment will convince any person of the utter uselessness of this bobbing back and forth at every corner.—The common rule, is this: If a man and woman are walking she should always be at his right arm, whether it be toward the inside or outside of the walk; then the woman will not be shoved against the passers.

MAKING LOVE WITH UMBRELLAS.—A certain dramatic writer, being caught in a shower of rain, took refuge under the portico of a handsome dwelling in New York. As soon as he had taken the position, a window was opened, and a lovely female face appeared, which seemed to beam with sympathy and anxiety. She soon retired and sent him an umbrella by a servant. He at once fell desperately in love, and, thinking from her anxious looks that the feeling was reciprocated, he called on her in the morning, sent up his card, and gave into her hands a very nice umbrella he had purchased in place of the old shabby one he had borrowed, and then wound up by making a profession of love. The young lady, without even noticing the exchange that had been made, perceiving how her act had been misinterpreted, naively replied: "I feel it to be my duty to undeceive you, sir. At the time of the shower, I was anxiously expecting the arrival of a gentleman, who is, I confess, very dear to me, who wished to see me in private, and my only motive for sending you the umbrella was to get you off the steps."

FAN FLIRTATION.—For the benefit of our young lady readers, some at least of whom are not supposed to be posted in the mute language of the fan, we give the following directions for carrying on a flirtation:

Fan fast.—I am independent.
Fan slow.—I am engaged.
Fan with right hand in front of face.—Come on.
Fan with left hand in front of the face.—Leave me.
Open and shut.—Kiss me.
Open wide.—Love.
Open half.—Friendship.
Shut.—Hate.
Swinging the fan.—Can I see you home?
Fan by right cheek.—Yes.
Fan by left cheek.—No.
To carry in the left hand.—Desirous of getting acquainted.
Carry with handle to lips.—I will flirt with you.

The following curious and characteristic legend is inscribed in French on the tombstone of Martin Fereol, a celebrated French taxidermist who died at Bourgogne, in 1849, at the age of one hundred years:

Here lies a Centenarian:
Martin Fereol,
A distinguished Naturalist, born at St. Cyr-ville (Landes,) August 12, 1749;
Died at Chateau-la Garenne, in Bourgogne,
On the same day of the year 1849;
And therefore exactly one hundred years old.
A enthusiastic zoologist and determined misanthrope
He sought the friendship of beasts
As zealously as he disdained that of men
Forgetting that Christ died for the latter.
By his side has since been laid
The bones of his sister, Babette;
Her flesh having been devoured by ants.
In accordance with her own wish.

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 3, 1869.

Conservative and Democratic Nominee.

FOR SENATOR,

FOR THE NINETEENTH DISTRICT,

JOSHUA PERRY,

OF FRANKLIN.

JUDGE WATTS AND THE HABEAS CORPUS.

We have already alluded to the habeas corpus case tried, or rather brought before, Judge Watts, on 26th of July, which resulted in the release, on bail, of the persons accused of the murder of Wm. H. Putney and the stabbing of Ed. Moss. From facts that have come to our knowledge since the former allusion to the affair, we are of opinion that it needs some further ventilation.

It will be remembered that Walker and Bell were brought before Mayor Harrison, of this city, for examination under charge, the former of stabbing Putney with a bayonet, of which wounds he died, and the latter of stabbing Moss, who was then represented by Maj. Martin, Chief of Police, as lying dangerously ill. The evidence before the Mayor was direct and positive that Walker was seen to plunge the bayonet into the back of Putney, and other witnesses stated they saw Bell stab Moss. On this evidence, Mayor Harrison committed Walker to prison without bail to answer the charge of murder; and Bell, he committed, in default of $5,000 bail, to await the result of Moss's wounds. As an honest officer, he could do nothing less.

Walker, at first, as we are informed, made an effort through his friends, to take his case out of the hands of the civil authorities, and to be turned over to the military. To what extent these efforts were carried, we are not informed, but, it seems, they were unsuccessful. The next move was to get a hearing before Judge Watts on a writ of habeas corpus, and the Judge being sent for, arrived in Raleigh by the five o'clock train Monday evening July 26 h. The petition was gotten up and the writ issued that night. What lawyer acted for Walker and Bell is not known, as we understand Mr. R. C. Badger, who was announced in the Standard as counsel for the parties, denies, having had anything to do with it. Be that as it may, the writ was issued and the parties brought before Judge Watts at the Yarborough House. Here the petition was heard and granted—Walker was admitted to bail in the sum of $500, and Bell in a like amount. But the strangest and most unheard of part of the proceedings is, that the witnesses who had appeared in the trial before the Mayor, were not summoned, nor were they present; the Solicitor, Gen. Cox, though within a mile, was not notified; the Mayor who had conducted the preliminary examination was not consulted; in short, the prisoners, who had been committed upon direct and positive evidence, were admitted to bail on the statements, alone, made in their own petition, and, perhaps, the statements of those who had been instrumental in bringing the Judge to Raleigh, but who could not possibly know any thing of the facts in the case as they occurred in Goldsborough.

But Walker's was not the only case that needed the assistance of Judge Watts. One Emory, formerly jailor, had been accused of furnishing prisoners the means of escape from jail, (among them, Willis, the murderer,) for which service he had received compensation in money. The evidence in this case was so strong and positive that Emory was held to answer in a bond of $1,000, in default of which he was committed to jail. It is known that parties were extremely anxious to have the bond reduced, and so, on Judge Watts' visit on the 26th, a writ of habeas corpus was sued out in his case, and, without hearing of any evidence, at least from the witnesses who had testified against him, his bond was reduced to $500 and the bail given by his anxious friends, which all believe will be forfeited.

Such proceedings look strange in North Carolina. We don't think anything like it was ever seen or heard of in the State before, and we trust in God nothing like it will ever be witnessed in the good old North State again. It is currently stated, and we believe it to be true, that on the night of these transactions, Judge Watts was not in a condition to attend to Judicial or any other matters, in a discreet and proper manner; in short that he was too much under the influence of liquor to know much what he was about. If this should be construed into "contempt of Court," we think we can fully substantiate what we have said, namely, that the above is the current report, and that the report had foundation in fact.

But there was another little judicial job required of the Judge, on that eventful night. The Governor wanted an injunction against Col. Harris, to keep him from meddling in the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad affairs. The papers were fixed up ready for the Judge's signature, but where was the Judge at that time? Will Judge Watts say—nay, dare he say, where he was at the time he was called for to sign that injunction?

We have thus alluded to this affair because we believe duty to the people and the State require it. We have stated nothing hastily, nor on any vague rumor, and we are convinced that the facts are, in the main, as here set forth. If then, they be true, what a condition of affairs do they present! Let the people of all classes ponder them.

Remember that Gen. Phil Hawkins never went round shaking hands with colored men until he thought he could get office by it.

THE GOVERNOR LAUDS HIMSELF.

The arrogance of W. W. Holden as Provisional Governor of the State is not fully known to the people. The want of post offices, the scarcity of money, and consequent inability of the people to take newspapers, shut them out from the knowledge of much that took place under Holden as war Governor—or Provisional Governor as he was called.

He pretended to sell out his paper to his son Joe, and the son is supposed by the public to wield the "gray goose quill" for dad. Those who know the Governor's face, and style of writing, can identify him as the author of the following Editorial from the Standard, with the same certainty that they can identify his ugly countenance. The whole article is falsehood itself.

"The people of the State will bear witness that Gov. Holden has been liberal and lenient in his administration." "The Governor has persecuted no one." "He cherishes no resentment towards any portion of his fellow citizens."

Who says this—where is the man, save the Governor himself, who could be so void of truth as to write such falsehoods! So many and so false.

There is another Editorial in the Standard charging two gentlemen with lying to get their pardon.

If we should say the Governor lied in this editorial, it would be counted as vulgar and rude on our part, and so it would be—and therefore we use no such terms as liar to be applied to the Governor. We have said we can prove him to be one and so we can. But for the article from the Standard. Read it and bear in mind that it is written by the Governor himself:

From the Standard.

"PARDONS."

It has been stated in the newspapers, that the President has pardoned W. J. Hawkins of Warren, and George W. Mordecai of Wake—it has also been stated that these pardons were granted on the recommendation of Gov. Holden. This is a mistake, and it is due alike to the President and to Gov. Holden that the facts in such cases should be given.

These persons applied for pardon through the Governor, and their applications were forwarded to the President with the recommendation that for the present they should be suspended. It was not the wish of Gov. Holden that their estates should be confiscated, but he thought it was but just to the loyal Union men of the State that such offenders should not be permitted to participate as voters in the re-organization of the State government. Meanwhile these gentlemen repaired to Washington to press their cases. The State Agent, Dr. R. J. Powell, knowing that the Governor had recommended their suspension, declined to aid them. But they appeared before the President, and, as we are informed, told him that they had taken no active part in the rebellion, and that they had been recommended for pardon by the Governor. Their applications could not be found by the Clerk; and the President, taking it for granted that their representations were correct, granted them a pardon.

We make this statement in justice to the Governor. The people of the State generally will bear witness that Gov. Holden has been liberal and lenient in his administration; and we state the fact that of one thousand applications for pardon forwarded by the Governor, seven or eight hundred have been recommended for pardon. The Governor has persecuted no one. He cherishes no resentments towards any portion of his fellow citizens. It would afford him no pleasure to see any estate confiscated. But he intends to perform his duty without fear, favor, or affection; and he is determined that his authority shall be respected. He did not seek the place he now occupies, but he accepted it at the request of the President, and he feels that he has the confidence of the President. The persons referred to may congratulate themselves on their success; but we tell them that the Governor has power, if he chooses to exercise it, to assess their estates in any amount for the support of the State government, and to aid the State charities, and that his exercise of this power will depend upon the manner in which these persons and their political associates and friends shall conduct themselves from this time until the provisional government ceases.

Remember! that a colored man in Louisburg charged Gen. Hawkins with refusing to pay him his "Jack's fees" after value received.

DERELICTION OF DUTY.

The Governor has given General Little field, Editor of the Standard, a fat job; he has made him State Printer. With this State patronage, and the $100,000 fee for lobbying through the Chatham Railroad bill, the General is able to build a new office. It was due to the Governor that Littlefield should have started him as a candidate among the negroes of Florida for the Vice Presidency. At the schoolhouse where the General addressed the negroes, was an opportune occasion to have brought the Governor forward; why he did not the Standard should explain.

It may be the musquitoes bit too hard, or the General was so overjoyed at his Railroad success, as to forget his great benefactor. It may be the General is indignant at the Governor's course towards carpet baggers. John Ragland, in February last, at Oxford Court, warned the negroes against carpet-baggers. It now leaks out that John's speech was made after consultation with the Governor; the Governor advised John to assail carpet-baggers; will the Governor deny it? This, after all, only shows the consistency of the Governor's inconsistent and treacherous life.

Colored Folks, remember, that General Phil. Hawkins bought slaves and paid for them in gold, after the surrender.

For the Sentinel.

THE BENCH AND THE BAR.

Miserum est ab eo lædi a quo non possis queri et non facile aut tutum in eum scribere qui potest proscribere:—"Miserable it is to be injured by him from whom there is no appeal; and it is not safe to write against him who can proscribe and punish at his will and pleasure."

The case of so called contempt which has recently been tried between the Supreme Court of North Carolina and the Bar of the State, has brought both prominently before the people, and it will not be without value to inquire into the respective merits of the two.

The Supreme Court of North Carolina has heretofore been made up of men chosen from the Bar; men distinguished in that Body by wisdom, probity, purity of life, eminent learning and eloquence; those virtues which adorn and elevate human nature—"Viri illustres et decus honoris!" They have been lifted by the voice of the people through their representatives from the ranks of advocates and clothed by them with that stainless ermine which representing the purity of justice, has been handed down by previous generations of men, similar to themselves in all those qualities which adorn the Bar, the Bench and mankind; conscious of the dignity and responsibility of their position; proud of the confidence reposed in them; but at the same time, possessing the modesty of true merit. The conservators of the public peace; representatives of the dignity, the honor the justice of the State; lived lives of temperance, righteousness and purity—severe in the observance of those virtues which constituted them exemplars to their fellow citizens; they were a power in the State!—her glory in peace—her bulwark and sure retreat in times of discord and passion!—holding themselves sternly aloof from the strife of party, from the fuss of politics, and from the bias of partizanship, they maintained in their judicial lives, that calm dignity and steadfastness of purpose, which enabled them to treat all men alike before the Law; and administer equal justice to all! Never descending into the dusty arena of politics nor seduced by the breath of popular applause to take a part in the heated partizan conflicts of the day—and yet maintaining a personal independence of thought and political sentiment; they preserved in its spotless purity the ermine with which they had been invested. Such has been the Supreme Court of North Carolina—when such men as R. M. Henderson, Daniel, Gaston, Nash and Ruffin—men who as it were but yesterday were distinguished, respected members of the Bar, and today are elevated by the assembled wisdom of the State into the position of Authorities of the Law and Constitution, and into whose hands were confidently entrusted the peace and dignity of the State. How stands it now!

Let Chief Justice Pearson stand forth before the Bar of Public Opinion. He is the only Judge upon the Bench of the Supreme Court, who sat with the Judges of the ancient days; with such men as Nash, and Manly, and Ruffin, and upon his shoulder fell the ermine robe of the last named gentleman. This long association with those pure and virtuous minds, one would think, should have given a tone of elevation and dignity to the present Chief Justice, which should have lifted him above the dusty arena of politics. But the war, the negro, and Radicalism, awoke a slumbering ambition, and the man, and the Judge, was demoralized—"and lo! this man hath become a god, and Cassius must bend his body, if Cæsar but carelessly nod on him!" He is accused of writing a partizan letter, in a heated political contest, for President Grant, for the purpose of subserving the special ends of party! The proof stands in a published letter, over his signature—not as Chief Justice, but as R. M. Pearson—and not denied, so that, in the language of the Protest, "throwing aside the ermine he did rush into the mad contest of politics." Quod scripta est manet! "Thy own mouth condemns thee." Stand aside Judge Pearson!

Next come forth Mr. Justice Reade. E. G. (Exempli Gratia) Reade, the gentleman, who, like the wood pigeon, cries do! do! do! all day and yet never does! Is always "going home," but never goes!! He is one who, soon after his promotion to the Judicial dignity, and before radicalism had fastened its poisonous fangs, and injected its contaminating virus into all his veins, wrote thus:

"The strongest conviction of my judgment is that it (that is the publication of his political position,) would be a breach of propriety for which I know no precedent in North Carlina and for which I would be severely censured. By universal consent it is not by the imperative demand, of the public sentiment, the Judges have stood aloof from active participation in party contests. I think it would be best, if it could be forgotten, if a Judge belonged to either, or to any party . . . . . If there ever was a time when the Judiciary should, be free from party prejudices that time, is the present"! This Judge is accused of writing the so called "Legislative Address," to say the least of it an infamous partizan political paper, and to have followed it up with a political speech to five thousand negroes. Quod scripta est manet! "Thy own mouth condemns thee"! Stand aside Judge Reade. Next come Justices Rodman, Dick and Settle against whom the accusation is written. "You too, throwing aside the ermine he did rush into the mad contest of politics," and the accusation stands proved by your own acts, and your own words, exhibited and spoken on more than one public occasion. And then of Tourgee and of Jones and others what shall we say! except that of them nothing more could be expected! Can you touch pitch and not be defiled? Can you trail the ermine in the dust and not have it soiled? Let us now put two cases.

1st. That the Protest could happily have excepted the Supreme Court from just animadversion and delivered it solely, against the inferior Judges, and these acting as did their great exemplars, had ruled out the signers of the said Protest for contempt. Against which rule they had of right appealed. How would the case have stood before the Supreme Court?—Moore, et al., vs. Tourgee, Judge—Proof: political speeches—openly uttered—lie given and received on the hustings—personal collision—fighting.

Would or would not those immaculate Judges of the Supreme Court have decided that a case was fully made out against Judge Tourgee? And that so far from the Protestants being guilty of contempt, the Judge, aforesaid, was the party who had brought the Judiciary of the State into open and flagrant contempt. Again, suppose that each one of those Judges, Tourgee, Jones, et alia, shall, on their respective circuits, each and every one, require the same rule to be taken out as was done by the Justices of the Supreme Court, and exclude, by dictum, the protesting lawyers from practice until they make due acknowledgment, answer and obeisance, to the said several Judges. Where would be the administration of justice, and where the end of this petty tyranny? And yet, have not these underlings of justice the same right in the premises? Are not their consciences as tender, their honors as easily pricked as those of these greater lights of the law?—Truly it would be edifying to him, Tourgee, in his first Circuit Court, to call upon the Clerk of the Court for the names of those Attorneys, practising in that Court, who signed the Protest aforesaid, and to have ruled out by his dictum, such men as Moore, Vance and others, until they had purged themselves of what he magisterially deemed "contempt!" And suppose they refused to purge themselves, or appealed to the highest tribunal. What would become of Tourgee, et al? Clearly in the case of the Justices of the Supreme Court, they have been guilty of a gross injustice, for each of them, individually and all collectively, have adjudged their own case. It is customary, where a Judge is interested in any manner in the issue of a case to decline a hearing, and to leave the adjudication of the point at issue to one or more of his brethren.—But here sit the collective Judiciary of the State, of North Carolina, and arraign the whole Bar of the State or its largest portion, and by an arbitrary prejudged rule, refuse them a personal hearing, adjudge them guilty of a contempt and require them to purge themselves by acknowledgment of error and payment of costs before they can appear before this Star Chamber Court as pleaders in the causes of their clients, the people.

Since the days of Judge Jeffries, was ever anything so monstrous as that parties should be adjudged guilty of a contempt through a newspaper publication, and yet that the speeches and letters upon which the Protestants founded their Protest and which constituted the gravamen of the offence should not be considered of equal weight in justification of themselves, and in vindication of that Protest.

Now there are two things which we regret the Protestants, and the rest of the Bar of North Carolina, did not do, and which, if done, would have brought about the right issue, and put the parties, so to speak, "upon the counting"—

1st. The Protestants, when the rule was taken out, should have refused to answer, and, when they left Court, they should have gone to their several homes, and reported the facts of the case to their clients, and thus have allowed them—the people—to answer to the rule.

2nd. Every member of the Bar of North Carolina, and more especially those present in the Supreme Court, (except, of course, those excusable by reason of their personal relations to the Judges,) should have immediately come forward and signed the Protest, have made common cause with their bretheren, and thus thrown the delay of Justice, and the stoppage of law, upon the shoulders, where of right it should rest, upon the Justices of the Court. Then would the people, the sovereigns of these Justices, have come forward and demanded of them, "Why the wheels of Justice were delayed and hindered, and why the business of the Court, and the rights of parties, should be disregarded in order to justify their petty pride and love of power?"

Then the people of North Carolina would have seen in its true light on the one side a venal corrupt radical ambitious partizan power seeking and popularity hunting Judiciary dragging the sullied robes the soiled ermine of Justice through the mud and mire of Radical politics, and on the other hand a pure true, upright and virtuous Bar, maintaining with stern pride and fortitude the ancient honor and dignity of the State free from stain or spot! And so we close with a few words of advice and admonition which we commend to the Judiciary. "Judges ought to remember that their office is "jus dicere" and not "jus dare"—to interpret law and not "to make law or give law. Judges ought to be more learned than witty—more reverent than plausible, and more adorned than confident; above all things integrity is their portion and proper virtue. An over speaking Judge is no well tuned cymbal. The place of Justice is a hallowed place, and therefore not only the Bench, but the foot pace and precints, and purpose thereof ought to be prescribed without scandal and corruption. Let Judges also remember that Solomon's throne was supported by lions on both sides. Let them be lions, but yet lions under the throne, being circumspect that they do not check or oppose any points of sovereignty. And let them remember that here in America the people is the sovereign.

PUBLICUS.

Remember that Gen. Phil Hawkins has shown that he is for self and for office, and is not to be trusted by any party.

A BOY'S COMPOSITION ON ICE.

I like ice. When it's cold I like it best. Ice is good for a great many things. It is good to skate on, and is good to make ice cream. I like to skate. Sometimes I lend my skates to Lizzie Jones, and she lets me buckle them on for her. She wears striped stockings, with red, and white and blue stripes running around them, and her legs looks like a stick of candy. Father says ice is good in coblers. I don't know why it is better in coblers than other ways. I suppose I shall be a good deal wiser when I grow up. I like ice cream with plenty of vanilla in it. There is more ice cream in summer than in winter. And more ice in winter than summer. There are heaps of things I cannot understand. Mother says if I eat too much ice cream it will make my stomach hurt. I eat all I want but I am careful not to eat too much, because mother tells me not to. When next winter comes, Lizzie Jones and I are going to skate some more. There will not be any more winter until after the summer comes. The seasons are mighty odd in this country. Sometimes winter comes before summer, and sometimes summer comes before winter. Spring always comes after winter, Father says I may have a new pair of skates next summer. When I get to be a man I am going to pour red stuff on the ice to warm it before I put it in my mouth like father does.

Remember that only one single Republican delegate, of Franklin, voted for the nomination of Gen. Phil Hawkins.

TWO PARISIAN IDEAS.—In Paris two new inventions for locomotion have been brought out. One has been tested, since it is but an adaptation of a locomotive to ordinary roads; and the other, which partially succeeds, is a kind of velocipede for six persons, which will move by the simple weight of those upon it. These, with an electric voting machine, which has been offered to the Chamber, and which is the invention of an American, are the industrial hopes of the moment. The electric machine would enable all the votes of the Corps Legislatif to be taken in a minute, an operation which now requires an hour. This new velocipede will excel the railroads, the horses, and its father, the humble velocipede of the present day. It will go of itself.

Don't forget, Gen. Phil. Hawkins never declared himself a Republican until he thought he could get an office by it.

The New York Tribune says: "The disaster on the Memphis and Louisville railroad, whereby four persons were instantly killed and twenty seven more or less seriously wounded, is one which might have been sooner expected, and which no one who comprehends the force of language will presume to call an accident. The trestle-work through which the train was precipitated is high and long, and it has been for months in a condition which even to careless passers seemed dangerous."

Savannah News, July 26th.

TOO MUCH ELECTRICITY IN A TELEGRAPH OFFICE.

In the early days of telegraphy, it was a source of wonderment to the people why, when a thunder storm passed over the wires, they did not attract the lightning and carry devastation to all the offices and operators along their line; but it is now pretty generally known that the wires are disconnected at all the stations within reach of a storm as soon as it makes its appearance, and whenever an accident occurs it is because the disconnection was not made soon enough, or because the reconnection is made before the storm really passed. An accident from the latter cause occurred at the telegraph office at the Atlantic and Gulf Railroad depot, in this city, on Thursday last. The operator there reconnected his wires after all the thunder and lightning had passed, and there was no signs of the recent storm except a single white cloud, which hung over the road some little distance from the city. He had sent one dispatch, and has just taken his hands off the battery, when the wire was struck down the road. The current of electricity passed along the wires with the sound of burning powder, entered the office, and plunged into the jars of acids under the operator's table. The jars and the box which contained them were shivered to fragments, with their contents, scattered over the office floor. The stand of a battery, which stood upon a table, totally disconnected from the wires, was also demolished.

Mr. J. S. Tyson, Master of Transportation, and the operator, were in the room at the time, the latter within three feet of the wires, but did not feel any shock, though each were struck by a small splinter, which, however, only scratched their faces a little. Parties in adjoining rooms felt the shock severely, one by a burning sensation upon the head, and others by numbness in their feet, such as is felt when they are "asleep."

Vote for Perry, the low tax candidate against Gen. Phil. Hawkins, the high tax candidate.

DIED:

At the residence of her husband, in this City on Monday night, August 2nd, about 12 o'clock, Mrs. MARY G., wife of JOHN D. PRIMROSE.

The funeral will take place from the Presbyterian Church, to-morrow (Wednesday) at 10 o'clock, A. M. The friends and acquaintances of the family are requested to attend, without further notice.

MEETING OF COMMITTEE.—There will be a meeting of the Executive Committee of the N. C. Agricultural Society, to-morrow (Wednesday) morning, at 10 o'clock, at the office of Messrs. W. H. Battle & Sons, to perfect the arrangements for the Fair to be held in October.

We hope our citizens will give active co-operation to the Committee, who are exerting themselves most zealously to make our State Fair a success and an occasion of great benefit to the industrial interests of the State.

We expect to be able to announce the list of premiums at an early day.

REGISTER! REGISTER!—Don't forget that to-morrow, (Wednesday,) is the day advertised by the proper officer for registration in the Raleigh precinct. Let every man above twenty one years of age go and register, if he is not already registered here. Every young man who has come of age; every man who did not register before, and every man who has moved into the precinct since the last registration, must register now, if he wishes to vote at the election on Thursday.

FIREMEN'S PARADE.—Fire Company, No. 1, were out yesterday for practice, and we have no doubt that in case of fire they would render efficient service; but, one fire company is not enough for Raleigh. Where is the other company? Where the hook and ladder company? and the bucket company? We said several weeks ago, they were defunct, but somebody denied it; if they are not defunct, why don't they show some signs of life? By and-by some building will catch fire, endangering and, perhaps, destroying other buildings, and then, what a mustering of firemen there will be! This will last, according to custom, five weeks, then all will be quiet again until the next fire. Better be prepared and keep prepared all the time. Especially let company No. 1 be encouraged to keep up its organization on an effective basis.

WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY.—We have received the annual announcement and catalogue of the Medical Department of the Washington University, Baltimore, Md., from which it appears there were 155 students in this department during the last session, of which number, 38 were from North Carolina.

The next regular session of the Medical Department will commence on Monday, Oct. 4th, 1869, and close on the 22nd day of February, 1870. The general introductory lecture of the course will be delivered by Prof. J. J. Moorman, M. D., on the day of the opening of the session.

RETIREA.—S. D. Pool, Esq, retires from his connection with the Newbern Journal of Commerce, and will commence, about the 16th of this month, the publication of a Daily paper in Norfolk under the title of the "Norfolk Evening Herald." He asks an exchange with his former State cotemporaries, to commence at once.

TO-MORROW, we will publish the communication of Mr. J. W. Sharp, in answer to a matter alluded to in the Standard of this morning.

THE EXPERIMENTAL FARM JOURNAL, for July is to hand, rather late, as the month for which it is published has passed.

THE PROOF SHEET.—This is the title of a little Monthly issued by Collins & McLeister, 705, Jayne Street, Phila., and would be found useful to printers as a source of information pertaining to their art, as well as a guide in the judicious selection of improved printing materials.

THE CLAYTON SENTINEL, published at Clayton, Adams county, Ill., by our former fellow citizen, F. K. Strother, Esq., the first number of which is on our table, presents a very comely appearance and shows that the hand of our old friend has not forgot its cunning. We enter our namesake on our exchange list, with a sincere wish that it may continue to increase in prosperity, and that its shadow may never grow less. The subscription price of the Sentinel is $2 per annum, or $1 for six months.

From the Norfolk Daily Journal July 18, 1869.

NEW BUT RELIABLE.—A new remedy for purifying the blood and restoring the liver and kidneys to healthy action, and invigorating the nervous system, has recently been prepared and is now offered for sale to the public by Dr. J. J. LAWRENCE, of this city, under the name of KOSKOO.

The gentleman by whom this medicine is prepared is not a quack, but a gentleman of well-known integrity in Norfolk, a man of scientific attainments, and a success ful practitioner of medicine, and who has gained a national reputation as discoverer of the celebrated remedy—Rosadalis.

This new medicine, Koskoo, bids fair to outstrip in popularity the former preparations of Dr. Lawrence, and become not only a State but a National medicine.

On Saturday last, and for many days past, the sale in the Norfolk office has amounted to hundreds of bottles, and the demand is still for Koskoo, the greatest remedy of modern times.

We wish Dr. Lawrence abundant success in the sale of his health restoring medicines, and feel that in so doing we direct the attention of the public to a gentleman who most deserve a liberal and generous patronage.

WE select the following from an old and, to many, familiar author, and will wager a watermelon that, in every crowd of five, where it may be read, four of them will say it is applicable to the same individual:

HUDIBRAS, PART III., CANTO II. LINE CCCLXXXIII.

The quacks of government (who sat
At th' unregarded helm of state,
And understood this wild confusion,
Of fatal madness and delusion,
Must, sooner than a prodigy,
Portend destruction to be nigh,)
Consider'd timely how t' withdraw,
And save their windpipes from the law,
For one rencounter at the bar
Was worse than all th' had 'scap'd in war:
And therefore met in consultation
To cant and quack upon the nation:
Not for the sickly patient's sake,
Nor what to give, but what to take:
To feel the pulses of their foes,
More wise than fumbling arteries:
Prolong the snuff of life in pain,
And from the grave recover — gain.
'Mong these there was a politician,
With more heads than a beast in vision,
And more intrigues in every one
Than all the w—— os of Babylon.
So politic, as if one eye
Upon the other were a spy.
That to trepan the one to think
The other blind, both strove to blink:
And in his dark, pragmatic way
As busy as a child at play.
H' had seen three governments run down,
And had a hand in ev'ry one;
Was for 'em and against 'em all,
But barb'rous when they came to fall;
For by trepanning th' old to ruin
He made his int'rest with the new one,
Play'd true and faithful, though against
His conscience, and was still advanced.
For by the witchcraft of rebellion
Transform'd to a feeble state camelion.
By giving aim to either side,
He never fail'd to save his tide,
But got the start of ev'ry state,
And at a change ne'er came too late,
Could turn his word, and oath, and faith,
As many ways as in a lathe;
By turning wriggle, like a screw,
Int' highest trust, and out, for new,
For when h' had happily incurred,
Instead of hemp, to be preferred,
And pass'd upon a government,
He play'd his trick, and out he went.
But being out, and out of hopes
To mount his ladder (more) of ropes,
Would strive to raise himself upon
The public ruin, and his own.
So little did he understand
The desp'rate feats he took in hand.
For when he had got himself a name
Fit for fraud and tricks he spoil'd his game.
Had fore'd his neck into a noose,
To show his play at fast and loose,
And when he chanc'd t' escape, mistook
For art and subtilty his luck.
So right his judgment was cut fit,
And made a tally to his wit,
And both together most profound,
At deeds of darkness underground,
As th' earth is easiest undermin'd
By vermin impotent and blind.
By all these arts, and many more,
H' had practic'd long and much before,
Our state artificer foresaw
Which way the world began to draw.
For as old sinners have all points
O' th' compass in their bones and joints;
Can by their pangs and aches find
All turns and changes of the wind,
And better than by Napier's bones,
Feel in their own the age of moons;
So guilty sinners in a state
Can by their crimes prognosticate,
And in their consciences feel pain
Some days before a show'r of rain;
He therefore wisely cast about
All ways he could t' insure his throat;
And hither came t' observe and smoke
What course other riskers took;
And to the utmost do his best
To save himself, and hang the rest.

Remember! that many colored men in Louisburg accused General Phil. Hawkins, publicly, of refusing to pay them money he justly owed them.

WIDE SPREAD USEFULNESS.—The relief of the wants of the deserving poor, and especially of widows and orphans, whose natural provider has been lost to them, is a subject which has been forced upon the attention of communities and individuals through all history, and many plans of systematic relief have been discussed.—Great good has been done by the aid thus given to those unable to help themselves but, after all, charity is not the best way in which such help can be secured. To accept of alms involves, in some degree, a loss of self-respect and independence. What is wanted is some system by which, at small gradual cost, every laboring man may make sure of leaving to his family, when death takes him away, a sum sufficient to keep the wolf from the door. Such a plan is offered to the public in the advertisement of the National Life Insurance Company in another column. The general features of the management of this Company are there noted, and the local agents will cheerfully give any further information as to the peculiar advantages offered. The "National Life" was chartered by Congress less than one year ago; it began business in August last, having then to establish its entire system of agencies, and to distribute information among the people as to its character and purposes. Both of these things have been done; the entire country and the Canadian Dominion are now covered by its general and sub agencies, and liberal advertising has made the name of the Company familiar throughout the land.—The result has surprised even its incorporators and officers. In ten months nearly 5,400 policies, covering over $15,000,000 insurance have been issued, this amount of business being nearly double that ever done by any other Company in the world during the entire first year of its existence. Such an unprecedented success should not only inspire unusual confidence in the organization so emphatically endorsed, but be the subject of general congratulation that the new Company has been able to do so much for the future comfort of the families insured. Every family thus protected from want is a proportionate diminution of future taxation, temptation and crime.

Low cash rates, and a plain business contract of as much insurance for so much money (avoiding all uncertainties of notes or dividends) are prominent features of the plan pursued by the National Life. Its capital is ample, its Officers and Directors men of unquestioned honor and ability, and its system of business is straightforward and business like. It deserves its success, and it has already taken front rank among institutions of its kind.

See advertisement of P. F. Pescud, the successful and very popular General Agent, for N. C., in another column.

Gen. Phil. Hawkins seluntered as a Democratic delegate, to a Democratic meeting in Franklin to help defeat the present Constitution.

A piece of mechanism for transferring railroad cars from one track to another without necessitating the running of the car several hundred feet backward or forward as the case may be, and without the use of switches, has been patented within the last few days. The practical advantages of it are a saving of depot room and of time, and railroad men say that it possesses some intrinsic merit.

THE W. C. AND RUTHERFORD RAILROAD.—We intended to give, in our yesterday's issue, a pretty full report of the proceedings of the meeting of the Stockholders of the W. C. & R. Railroad Company, held in Wilmington the latter part of last week, but mislaid the Wilmington papers containing them, and did not find them until too late. We deem it unnecessary, now, to give more than the result of the action of the meeting.

The Directors appointed by the Governor were admitted, by a vote of the Stockholders, as the legal Directors on the part of the State. Dr. Wm. Sloan was elected President, and Calvin J. Cowles, Esq., of Charlotte, son in-law to Governor Holden, was elected Treasurer.

The Governor, having "set his mugs," laid C-l. Harris as easily as putting a babe to rest, and all now betokens a spell of calm and quietude. Let us have peace.

OAK HILL, GRANVILLE CO, N. C.
July 29th 1869.

Mr. Josiah Turner, Dear Sir: You will oblige many anxious inquirers if you will inform them through the columns of your valuable paper, what will be the tax on the distillation of Fruit. They say that they have the fruit and they want to avail themselves of every opportunity to meet their oppressive Taxes this fall. They have in vain inquired of the Revenue officers; they don't seem to know what it will be.

Respectfully
A. SUBSCRIBER.

REPLY.—After diligent enquiry, we find the following course to be necessary for the legal distillation of fruit: first, register the still; second, have it surveyed (which, we suppose, means guaged;) third, pay a tax of fifty dollars per annum, which is thirty-seven and a half dollars till next May; fourth you must keep locks; fifth, pay two dollars a day for every day the still is run, and sixth; pay fifty cents per gallon on every gallon of brandy distilled. We are of the opinion that this routine amounts nearly to prohibition to all who have but small orchards.

GENERAL NEWS.

The editor of the New York *Tribune, when he sees men without a dime in their pockets or the means of getting one, advises them to emigrate, buy a farm, and go to work.—Prentice.

Beast Butler in a letter to a citizen of Virginia says in regard to requiring the test-oath of members of the State Legislature says: "My opinion therefore would be, and in that I am quite clear that it is within the power of the government, and within the requirements of the law of Congress, if administered in their integrity to set aside those men who cannot take the test oath because of their participation in the rebellion, and that men who did not so participate, and who lost the votes of the electors because of their adherence to the Union, should be admitted to their seats as being the choice of the only men voting who did not prefer a traitor to the government to a loyal man for his representative." Mr. Butler adds that Congress is the only power which can remove the necessity of taking the iron clad oath.

AN ENORMOUS FARM.—A Lafayette (Indiana) correspondent writes to the Cincinnati Gazette that there is a corn field in Benton county, Ind., of seven thousand acres, in good condition and growing splendidly. This field is to be found on the farm of Adams Earl, Esq., who resides in Lafayette. The same correspondent adds:

"Messrs. Earl and Fowler have a farm of thirty thousand acres in Benton county, in one body, well watered, and with permanent improvements, having one hundred and forty miles of hedge fence and sixty-five miles of board fence, thirty dwelling-houses for tenants, three blacksmith shops, &c. To cultivate the corn lands one hundred and sixty nine one and two horse plows were kept in daily use, and on the pasture lands forty one hundred head of cattle are now feeding for the New York market, and will be shipped this fall by rail. Messrs. Earl and Fowler gave their personal supervision to the farm, besides attending to their separate interests, the former a jobbing merchant and the latter a banker."

PARDONS IN GEORGIA.—Governor Bullock, of Georgia, has pardoned Robert F. Curry, Walker P. Inman and Wm. H. Inman, president, cashier and director of the Northwestern Bank of Georgia, who are prosecuted under the statute of the State for refusing to redeem the bills of the bank. The Governor alleges as grounds for this proceeding, that "the failure was not the fault of these officers, but the necessary result of the action of the civil powers of the State during the late rebellion, and the destruction and loss of proper ty occasioned by the late civil war;" and, secondly, because "the expenses, inconvenience and trouble of a defense will work great damage and hardship to the said parties."

THE YERGER CASE.—The Louisville Express says: "Ben. Pittman, the famous phonographer, has just returned to Cincinnati from reporting the Yerger trial at Jackson, Miss. He says it was by all odds the most interesting and thorough be ever reported. The defense had engaged the best medical talent in the entire South to prove Yerger insane, and nothing could be more elaborate and exhaustive than the efforts to establish that plea. Mr. Pitman believes that if he had been tried before any jury in the country it would have acquitted Yerger. As it is he believes that the military commission found him guilty and sentenced him to death."

RECRUITING FOR DON CARLOS.—Though the cable reports the Carlist movement to be expiring in Spain, it comes out that some of his partisans have been trying to enlist men in New York city to help do the fighting there. One Colonel Gibbons has opened a recruiting agency in Broome stree', New York. He advertises publicly for American officers of military experience, apparently never dreaming that he is violating the neutrality laws. Some are of opinion that this is a Cuban filibuster movement in disguise, but Col. Gibbons repudiates the assertion. He says he has had a number of applications from American ex-officers of high rank.

The record of the Yerger court martial is at the War Department, and will not reach the President formally for a time, as it must first be brief'd at the Judge Advocate General's office. When it has been acted upon by the President, the result will be announced in a general order from the War Department.

Secretary Boutwell has authorized the Collector of Customs of Chicago to sell the gold in the United States depository there to importers in such amounts as they may require, to pay duties, at the current rates in New York on the day of sale.

"Will the coming woman wear clothes?" is the startling heading of an article in the Leavenworth Bulletin. The editor does not attempt to answer his own question, and we are left in painful suspense.

STATE NEWS.

Eighteen colored persons—four infants, six children and eight adults—were interred in "Pine Wood" cemetery, near Wilmington, during the month of July.

John Van Sickles, a highly respected citizen of Wilmington, died in that city on Saturday last, aged 61 years.

The colored people of Goldsboro' went on an excursion to Morehead City, on Friday last, and enjoyed the occasion hugely.

STONE of the Weldon News was on a visit to Wilmington last week. The Journal man says Stone presides over one of the best papers in the State, and we endorse the declaration.

The Radical split in New Hanover, caused by the contending aspirants for Esterold shoes, is becoming interesting. Speeches are made daily, and if each party is as mean as its opponent represents it to be, we hope neither will be sent to Raleigh next winter.

Two hundred and thirty one beeves, four hundred and thirty nine sheep, and one hog were slaughtered and sold in the Wilmington market, during the month of July.

Mr. George W. Taylor, of Beaufort, was bitten by a venomous spider last week, and was rendered insensible by the pain caused by the poison, in a few moments. At last account he was in a critical condition.

SPEERING AT THE GOVERNOR.—The Wilmington Post gives as a reason why Larkins should be beaten, that he was a recessionist.

"Fresh as a Maiden's Blush" is the pure peachy Complexion which follows the use of Hagan's Magnolia Balm. It is the True Secret of Beauty. Fashionable Ladies in Society understand this.

The Magnolia Balm changes the rustic Country Girl into a City Belle more rapidly than any other one thing.

Redness, Sunburn, Tan, Freckles, Blotches and all effects of the Summer Sun disappear where it is used, and a genial, cultivated, fresh expression is obtained which rivals the Bloom of Youth. Beauty is possible to all who will invest 75 cents at any respectable store and insist on getting the Magnolia Balm.

ÆTNA
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
JANUARY 1ST., 1869.

Assets $10,462,531,75.
Amount of Income 6,227,071.

SURPLUS OVER LIABILITIES 2,675,999,48.

THE Ætna is the LEADING LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY in North Carolina.

Largest amount of Losses to Widows and Orphans!

The Largest Revenue to the States. And has by far the largest number when compared with 58 Companies reported officially by the Commissioners of New York and Massachusetts it will be seen that the Ætna ranks as one of the first Companies of the Continent. But two of the fifty-eight Companies permitted to do business in New York and Massachusetts had so large an income for the year 1868; but two had so large a number of Policies in force, but one among all those incorporated under the laws of the State of New York had so small a per centage of Expense to Income during the year 1868.

Its expenses are lower than most Companies', and consequently its ability to make and pay liberal dividends to the insured is greater than that of most other Companies. It is one of the great Companies of the land in Income, in Assets, in Number of Policies, in Amount Insured, in Solidity and Strength, in Soundness, Cheapness, Promptness, and Success. Persons contemplating this mode of investment in the future as in the past would do well to examine the claims of all and take a policy accordingly.

SPARKLING CATAWBA SPRINGS,
CATAWBA COUNTY, N. C.

THIS CELEBRATED WATERING PLACE, formerly called the North Carolina White Sulphur Springs, will be open for visitors on Tuesday, the first day of June next.

Being situated in the northwestern part of the State, in a country remarkable for its beauty and healthfulness of climate, together with the virtues of the waters, make it one of the most desirable watering places to be found.

The MINERAL WATERS of these Springs are the White and Blue Sulphur and Chalybeate or Iron, and they possess all the finest qualities of these waters, and are sovereign remedies for all diseases of the liver, bowels, stomach and kidneys, eruptions of the skin, scrofula, weakness, debility dyspepsia, rheumatism, &c.

The proprietor having spent a large amount in additional buildings and improvements to generally, these Springs are now in a fine condition, rooms large and pleasant, and good cottages containing from two to six rooms each, well arranged for either large or small families.

Good TEN PIN ALLEYS, BILLIARD TABLES and other amusements.

FINE BATH HOUSES for Cold, Plunge or shower Bath, Sulphur Bath, Hot or Cold.

A GOOD BAND OF MUSIC

Will be at the Springs the entire season, and a good Physician permanently located for the benefit of invalids, who will have every attention.

Having secured the services of Mr. J. N. CARTER, of Virginia, who has had much experience and stands high as a Hotel keeper, visitors may rest assured that their table will be supplied with the best the market can afford, and everything done that will add to their pleasure and comfort.

The cars on the Western North Carolina Rail Road will leave Salisbury for Hickory Station, the Springs' depot every morning, (Sundays excepted,) in connection with the North Carolina Railroad, avoiding stoppage or delay at Salisbury, and arrive at Hickory Station in time for breakfast, where good hacks will be in readiness to take passengers over a beautiful, well shaded road to the Springs—a distance of six miles.

As an inducement for families and parties to spend two months or more, I have concluded to put board down at the following low rates:

BOARD:

For one single month	$50 00
For two or more months, $40 per month, or at that rate.
Per week	16 00
Per day	2 50

Children under ten years of age and colored servants, half price. No charge for infants or children under two years of age.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild and efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its compositions. We have, now, thousands upon thousands of certificates of remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and why should we publish them? Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus. There are numerous cases where a purgative is required, which we cannot enumerate here, but they suggest themselves to everybody, and where the virtues of this Pill are known, the public no longer doubt what to employ.

DIVINE COMPASSION

BY JOHN WHITTIER.

Long since, a dream of heaven I had,
And still the vision haunts me oft:
I see the saints in white robes clad,
The martyrs with their palms aloft,
But hearing still, in middle song,
The ceaseless discordance of wrong;
And shrinking, with hid faces, from the strain
Of sad, beseeching eyes, full of remorse and pain.

The glad song falters to a wail,
The harping sinks to low lament;
Before the still unlifted veil
I see the crowned foreheads bent,
Making more sweet the heavenly air
With breathings or unselfish prayer;
And a voice saith: "O Pity which is pain,
O Love that weeps, fill up my sufferings which remain!"

Shall souls redeemed by me refuse
To share my sorrow in their turn?
Or, sin-forgiven, my gift abuse
Of peace with selfish unconcern?
Has saintly ease no pitying care?
Has faith no work, and love no prayer?
While sin remains, souls in darkness dwell,
Can heaven itself be heaven and look unmoved on hell?

Then through the gates of pain, I dream,
A wind of heaven blows coolly in;
Fainter the awful discords seem,
The smoke of torment grows more thin
Tears quench the burning soil, and thence
Spring sweet, pale flowers of penitence;
And through the dreary realm of man's despair,
Star-crowned an angel walks, and lo! God's hope is there!

Is it a dream? Is heaven so high
That pity cannot breathe its air;
Its happy eyes forever dry,
Its holy lips without a prayer?
My God! my God! if thither led
By Thy free grace unmerited,
No crown nor palm be mine, but let me keep
A heart that still can feel, and eyes that still can weep.

Supervisors.

The Age of Progress.

We publish to-day, the first scheme in the sale of Real and Personal Estate—a Company chartered by the last Legislature, with a capital of one hundred and thirty thousand dollars, and with power to increase that amount to five hundred thousand dollars. An examination of the charter satisfies us that the Company is pursuing a legitimate business; they are empowered to "dispose of Real and Personal Estate in any mode or form they may deem best," and "all laws, or clauses of laws, coming in conflict with said charter are hereby repealed." This is plain and unmistakable English, and we have no doubt the transactions of the Company will prove beneficial to the property holders of North Carolina. For example: Mr. A. owns a piece of real estate which he wishes to dispose of. He throws it upon the market, and fails to get a bid that would warrant him in making a deed. He then places it in the hands of the North Carolina Real and Personal Estate Agency, at a fair valuation, and the property is sold by chance—the owner gets his price—the Company a fair and reasonable compensation for selling—and some poor man, for two dollars comes in possession of a homestead which, under any other circumstances, he would not have owned.

In fact, we do not view the Company as a Lottery—it is what it purports to be, a simple Agency for the sale of property, for its true value, which, otherwise would be sacrificed.

We refer our readers to the advertisement—the splendid real estate offered, and the other rich prizes, amounting in all to THREE THOUSAND AWARDS—and the reader will perceive, by the simple rule of division, that there is one prize to every twenty-four tickets.

The General Agent of the Company has given us a call, and assures us, that the success of the Company is no longer a problem. In thirty-five counties through which he has just traveled, he represents the people as being enthusiastic in favor of it—both as to investing, and the placing of property in the hands of the Company for sale. He represents teat already, before the first grand drawing has taken place, applications to sell, amounting to half a million dollars, are on file in the secretary's office.

We learn from the Raleigh papers, that the explanatory drawing which took place in the city of Raleigh, on Saturday last, passed off to the decided satisfaction of a large audience assembled in Tucker Hall to witness it.—Wil. Post.

One three cent stamp must accompany every order. All tickets will have the seal of the Company and signature of the Secretary.

☞ We refer to any Merchant, Banker or other gentleman of standing in the city of Raleigh.
